The search for solutions to California’s housing crisis has reached unprecedented levels of activity in the state legislature and within our local and regional communities. The ink is still drying on over a dozen housing bills recently signed by the Governor while many more remain under consideration. The aim of all this activity is to address a growing need for more housing units at all levels of affordability. Many of these laws, whether they are new or receiving renewed emphasis, have a direct impact on our local community. As these new housing laws are enacted, we will be required to respond through potential changes to our local regulations and practices.

San Carlos is not immune to the crisis and has experienced an unprecedented surge in the growth of home prices and rental rates. Many of our teachers, restaurant workers, medical care providers, and countless others who contribute to the vitality and sustainability of our community live well over an hour away. Our local employers struggle to attract and retain employees. Many young adults raised in our community cannot afford to move out on their own or are choosing to leave our region for more affordable locales.

With all these factors in mind, the City Council directed staff to prepare a Strategic Work Plan outlining how the City will achieve its short, medium, and long-term housing goals. The goal of this plan is to address the effects of the housing crisis in our local community while thoughtfully and proactively responding to public input and efforts to maintain our unique community character.

In the following pages you will see brief descriptions of short, medium and long-term housing work plans. The goal of this newsletter is to inform you of what the City is doing and to bring you into the discussion. We want to ensure that you are aware of upcoming events and provide opportunities to share your experience and voice your opinions.

Below Market Rate (BMR) Ordinance Update
Summer 2020
Council authorized an amendment to the Affordable Housing Programs on July 8, 2019 that will require Rental Residential Multi-family Builders to build Below Market Rate (BMR) units and eliminated the BMR in lieu fee alternative. The City will also conduct an economic study to review affordable housing requirements, such as percentage and level of affordability, and evaluate incentives and alternatives.
EVALUATE GENERAL PLAN AND DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

With SB2 Grant funds, the City will hire a consultant to assess density considerations in mixed-use and multi-family areas and set minimum density requirements.

Additional key tasks include expanding the Priority Development Area (PDA), updating zoning considerations related to parking, height, and open space requirements assessment, and completing a California Environmental Quality Act General Plan/Zoning Change Environmental Impact Report.

NOTICE OF FUNDING AVAILABILITY (NOFA)

CONTINUE TRACKING HOUSING POLICY UPDATES

SUMMER 2019–SUMMER 2023

The City will continue to track the numerous housing-related state bills and evolving regulations, including the Governor’s initiatives, as an ongoing effort to ensure the City is kept apprised of and involved in the creation of housing policies, available grant funding, and other supportive resources to help advance the City’s housing goals.
